(c) Catalog of Navy Training Courses (CANTRAC)

1. The Navy Selection and Classification Office (OPNAV N132G) and the ASVAB Validation Review Committee (AVRC) analyzed observed historical training outcomes for the STS rating and simulated the effects of reducing the composite criteria to determine the potential impact such a reduction would have on the qualification and graduation rates of Navy accessions.

2. Based on the analysis and coordination with all stakeholders, the composite test score criteria for the STS rating through Fiscal Year 2025 will continue to be:

$AR+MK+EI+GS \geq 218$
OR
 $VE+AR+MK+MC \geq 218$

3. Organizations responsible for references (a) through (c) and other publications, manuals, articles, and instructions referencing minimum rating entry requirements should update their materials and classification systems to reflect this standard. Navy Selection and Classification Office will ensure the appropriate RIDE WEB Service Qualification Policy Tables reflect this standard.

4. This extends the temporary scores for another fiscal year, remaining in effect until 30 September 2025 when it will automatically revert to the previously approved composite test score criteria unless extended by additional memoranda for the record.
