

PROJECTED DEPARTMENT HEAD BILLET SLATE

Product Description

The projected Department Head (DH) billet slate posted on the 421B portion of the PERS-42 Career Info page is designed to improve detailing transparency. This product is built by aligning DH Projected Relief Dates (PRD) to the expected Submarine Officer Advanced Course (SOAC) convening. Billets requiring additional training (ie Strategic Weapons Officer, Strategic Navigation/Operations Officer, and Attack Weapons System Weapons Officer) will have between 2 and 6 months of delay between SOAC graduation and projected relief date.

This product is designed to project billets being assigned to SOAC classes 6-24 months in the future. Routine and daily updates to PRDs will not immediately post to this product. Individual commands are encouraged to use this product between wardroom planning conferences (WRPC).

Finally, please understand that detailing is a dynamic process. While officers should use this tool as an example of what may be available as they make preparations for SOAC, it is common for billets to slide one or two classes.
