

MC CAREER PATH (SW)

Mass Communication Specialists (MC). MCs practice human-centered design to develop creative communication solutions and align communication strategies and tactics to leadership's intent; conduct and provide documentation in the operational environment to support strategic decision-making and counter misinformation/disinformation; and conduct primary and secondary research. They serve as visual information (VI) subject matter experts and support a variety of operational and fleet VI requirements and tasks, including investigation, intelligence, and historical documentation. They prepare, process, and print publications and media products; design and create storyboards, graphics, and design publications; and produce still imagery and written, audio, video, and multimedia products. MCs conduct community outreach, news media operations, leadership communication operations, and organizational communication operations. They also plan, direct, and execute communication campaigns and events; create and execute social media communication strategies; serve as communication advisors to commanders; develop content strategies, and ensure communication products and experiences are designed to enhance understanding and discoverability.

Notes:

1. "A" school is required (October 2020) for all new accessions into the rating, including Professional Apprenticeship Career Track (PACT) and rating conversion Sailors.
2. MCs are assigned to expeditionary or deploying units such as aircraft carriers, amphibious assault ships, squadrons, special warfare units, and construction battalions, as well as Navy Public Affairs Support Element (NPASE).
3. Although MC is a surface rating, MCs serve in billets assigned to a variety of warfighting domains. Accordingly, they shall qualify for the warfare designation based on assignment type (e.g. ESWS, EAWS, SCW, NAC, EXW, etc.) during their prescribed tour. Likewise, MCs in training billets at the Defense Information School or Afloat Training Group shall qualify Master Training Specialist of Afloat Training Specialist, as appropriate, during their prescribed tour. MCs are not a source rating for Information Warfare, and in most cases will not be eligible to earn EIWS.
4. No two MCs will follow identical career patterns; however, on average the successful MC will meet most of the career milestones in the indicated sequence.

MC CAREER PATH (SW)

5. In most cases, an MC's first tour after initial training will be sea duty.
6. A normal sea/shore flow with diverse assignment types is available and expected following initial assignment.
7. There are many independent-duty billets for MCs, which may limit leadership opportunities or large summary groups for competitive ranking; at a minimum, soft rankings are expected, but one-of-one evaluations should not be viewed negatively. However, these MCs shall still seek leadership within the command, region, and MC community.
8. MCs have a variety of special programs and billets that may take them out of a traditional sea-shore flow; that should not be viewed negatively. These billets include, but are not limited to, White House Communications Agency, Flight Demonstration Squadron, the Advanced Military Visual Journalism Program (AMVJ), and Naval Special Warfare Development Group (DEVGRU). These are not closed-loop billets, however, and as stated above, diversity of assignments and maintaining sea/shore flow to the maximum extent practicable is still expected.
9. The Defense Information School, where MC 'A' school is taught, is a Joint Service training command. DINFOS runs a "Warrior of the Quarter/Year" program that is similar to the Navy's SOQ/SOY program but focuses more heavily on the instructor's role in the training command.
10. The management of a command's social media account is considered to be a normal responsibility for most MCs, and should not be given special consideration.
11. The parent activity for all AFN Broadcast Detachments is the Defense Media Activity.
12. The Visual Information Personnel (VIPER) program supports Operational Tasking Visual Information (OPTASK VI) and is a significant part of sea duty and operational shore commands (TYCOMs and Numbered Fleet Commands). MCs shall be involved in and leading the VIPER programs at their operational units, to include training.
13. Qualifications. Favorable consideration should be given to candidates who show the success of their watch stations, such as number of qualifications, watchstanding effectiveness, warfighting and force protection readiness, and command accomplishments, to include, but are not limited to:
 - VITT (Visual Information Training Team)
 - OOD (I/P)
 - Qualified all Enlisted Warfare per platform assigned
 - Watchbill Coordinator
 - DCTT (Damage Control Training Team)
 - Repair Locker Leader or other DC duties
 - ATTWO (Anti-Terrorism Watch Officer)
 - ATTT (Anti-Terrorism Training Team)
 - USMAP qualifications; Navy COOL Certifications; Lean Six Sigma Certifications
 - MC PQS
14. Collateral Duties. Collateral duties and Association involvement should be focused outside the Mass Communication Specialist rating (i.e. not PAO or social media manager). Command or Department collateral duties that are outside the MC rating include, but are not limited to:
 - Command Drug and Alcohol Program Advisor
 - Command Managed Equal Opportunity
 - SAPR Point of Contact / SAPR Victim Advocate
 - Family Advocacy Program coordinator

MC CAREER PATH (SW)
