Submarine Squadron 19 Sailor Wins MCPO Anna Der-Vartanian Leadership Award

COMMANDER, SUBMARINE GROUP 9 · WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24, 2020 · READING TIME: 3 MINUTES

SILVERDALE, Wash. (June 23, 2020) – Senior Chief Information Systems Technician (Submarine) Angela K. Koogler, from Dayton, Ohio, an assistant communications officer assigned to Commander, Submarine Squadron 19 at Naval Base Kitsap-Bangor, Washington, was recently awarded the 2020 Master Chief Anna Der-Vartanian Leadership Award.

Five outstanding Sailors were announced as winners of both the 2020 Captain Joy Bright Hancock and Master Chief Anna Der-Vartanian Leadership Awards via NAVADMIN 171/20, June 17.

Koogler was selected for the enlisted leadership award from more than 100 nominees.

FACES OF THE DEEP

"I was a career recruiter for 15 years. I got an email from a Sailor friend of mine who wanted to put a package in for women in submarines. I started reading it and thought, Wow, I could apply. I've been putting people in the Navy for so long and never getting to do the cool deployments. That's what I wanted to do; deploy and be the one who could say, I have the watch."

Naval Submarine School

Submariners attend Basic Enlisted Submarine School (BESS) at Naval Submarine School prior to arrival onboard their ship.

- Sailors learn the basic theory behind the construction and operation of submarines including ships systems, organization and safety.
- BESS prepares Sailors to pursue submarine qualifications upon initial assignment to an operational submarine. BESS also builds resilience and integrity which are cornerstones for all Submariners.
