

NAVCONBRIG CHARLESTON, DETACHMENT CHESAPEAKE PRETRIAL CONFINEMENT CHECKLIST

 Please be aware per DoDD 1325.04E Pretrial confinement of military prisoners normally will be on a non-reimbursable basis at a confinement facility or MCF nearest to the location of the court-martial proceedings. The closest facility may in some cases (i.e. Air Force) be a civilian facility with an installation-level Memorandum of Agreement. POC for Air Force units is: HQ AFSFC Corrections at DSN 945-5608/16 or 210-925-5608/16. Females will only be confined in facilities authorized to confine females (NAVCONBRIG Charleston Det. Chesapeake does confine females). In cases of officer confinement (including midshipmen, officer candidates and warrant officers), the officer's command shall notify Navy Personnel Command (PERS 00D) for designation of place of confinement.

The following information and checklist is provided to assist you in confining a pretrial prisoner at NAVCONBRIG Charleston, Detachment Chesapeake's brig:

Permissible Reasons for Authorizing Pretrial Confinement: (MCM R.C.M. 305)

1. An offense by courts-martial was believed to have been committed;
2. It is believed the accused committed the offense;
3. Confinement is necessary because it is believed:
 - a. The pretrial prisoner will not appear at a trial, pre-trial hearing or investigation (Flight Risk); or
 - b. The pretrial prisoner will engage in serious criminal misconduct (including obstructions of justice such as intimidation of witnesses, threats to the safety of the community and/or command, and threats to the effectiveness, morale, discipline or readiness of the command); or
 - c. Less severe forms of restraint (restricted barracks, etc) are inadequate.

When Confinement is NOT appropriate:

1. For safekeeping or protective custody;
2. While awaiting trial by court-martial when the only charge preferred is violation of UCMJ, article 86, unless the number of offenses or the circumstances surrounding the member's return to military control clearly indicate that confinement is necessary to ensure the member's presence at trial;
3. While awaiting completion of appellate review after that portion of the sentence relating to confinement has been served;

4. While awaiting administrative discharge solely because of the impending discharge;
5. Solely because of emotional instability; or
6. For offenses that are to be referred to a summary court-martial (SCM) or disposed of at non-judicial punishment (NJP).

Initial Review Officer (IRO) Hearing Information:

For USN and USMC pre-trial confinements, IRO's will follow ALNAV 012-25 UPDATED POLICY GOVERNING THE INITIAL REVIEW OF PRETRIAL CONFINEMENT. Commands should be prepared to provide escorts for the prisoner to the courthouse for IRO hearings as they will more than likely not be held in the confinement facility, but subject to change based on the IRO. This information will be updated as we receive guidance.

NOTE: New confinements and permanent releases do NOT require certified brig chasers for escort purposes; however, all subsequent appointments following initial confinement at NAVCONBRIG Chesapeake (court appearances, medical appointments, dental visits, etc) are the SOLE responsibility of the confining command and do require certified brig chasers. (See "Chaser Classes" for more info).
