3. All primary selectees and primary nominees for the SNTWI, CNO's Fellow, Hudson, FEF, ASM, STP, NWC ASP, PMM, and Olmsted programs must accept or decline their selection/nomination by COB 02 January 2026 by email to OPNAV N712 POCs listed in para 5 below, with a copy to PERS 443 and their respective detailers.

OPNAV N712 will reach out to alternates SEPCOR, as needed.

4. Fellowship/Scholarship Assignment Process and Details:

a. SNTWI: OPNAV N712 will coordinate the assignment of all selectees to their respective AY26-27 SNTWI corporate hosts in February 2026. Primary selectees are directed to contact the SNTWI Coordinator, LT James Tully and the SNTWI Director, Ms. Jennifer Rigdon Teter listed below via email to discuss the details of these assignments. SNTWI alternates are encouraged to remain flexible in the event that a primary slot opens up in the coming weeks.

b. CNO's Fellowship at the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR):

OPNAV N3N5N7 will forward the primary nominees' application materials to the CNO for final selection of the CNO's Fellow for AY26-27.

c. U.S. Navy Hudson Fellowship: The Governing Body of St. Antony's College, University of Oxford, has ultimate approval authority of the AY26-27 U.S. Navy Hudson Fellow. OPNAV N712 will forward the Curriculum Vitae, biography, and research proposal for the one primary nominee and the alternate nominees directly to the University of Oxford, with a decision by the University of Oxford expected in February 2026.

d. FEF: OPNAV N3N5N7 will assign primary selectees to their respective host institutions. Primary selectees are directed to contact the OPNAV N712 program team listed below to discuss details of these assignments and provide ranked preferences of the 13 host institutions. FEF alternates are encouraged to remain flexible in the event that a primary slot opens up in the coming weeks.

e. ASM: The ASM selectee will choose from among the ten approved universities listed in reference (a). It is strongly recommended that the ASM selectee apply to a minimum of three universities to increase their acceptance chances. Navy multi-board selection for the ASM program does not guarantee acceptance by a university. ASM alternates are encouraged to remain flexible in the event that a primary slot opens up in the coming weeks.

f. STP: Navy STP selectees will provide an application package to ODASW (Strategic Readiness) via OPNAV N712. Application package details will be provided to selectees SEPCOR by OPNAV N712. A senior-level panel within OASW (Readiness) will review STP selectees' application packages in January 2026. STP alternates are encouraged to remain flexible in the event that a primary slot opens up in the coming weeks.

g. NWC ASP: NWC ASP selectees will work with their detailers and PERS 443 (cc N712) to obtain orders to NWC. NWC ASP alternate is encouraged to remain flexible in the event that a primary slot opens up in the coming weeks.

h. PMM: PMM selectees will choose from among the eight approved universities listed in reference (a). It is strongly recommended that PMM selectees apply to a minimum of three universities to increase their acceptance chances. Navy multi-board selection for the PMM program does not guarantee acceptance by a university. PMM alternates are encouraged to remain flexible in the event that a primary slot opens up in the coming weeks.

i. Olmsted Scholars: Olmsted primary nominees will work with N712 to provide additional documentation for the Olmsted Foundation. Olmsted primary nominees' application packages will be forwarded by N712 to the Olmsted Foundation for their final selection. An Olmsted Foundation board will convene in March 2026 to select up to five Navy Olmsted Scholars for the Class of 2027.
