UPDATES TO NAVY UNIFORM REGULATIONS

Deleted:

1. Chapter 1, Article 1101.1, Policy

1101. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. POLICY. The purpose of the U.S. Navy Uniform Regulations is to: (1) Provide descriptions of all authorized U.S. Navy uniforms and components, and (2) Provide guidance for all Navy activities prescribing uniform wear in order to present a uniform image world-wide. It is issued by direction of the Chief of Naval Operations and carries the force of a general order. Any procedures or components, regarding uniforms or grooming, not discussed in these regulations are prohibited.

a. Applicability. The provisions of this manual apply to all personnel who are authorized to wear the U.S. Navy Uniform. It is issued for information and guidance, and requires compliance when wearing naval uniforms. This Manual is the sole source for dictating how to correctly wear U.S. Navy uniforms and uniform components. It supersedes UNITED STATES NAVY UNIFORM REGULATIONS, NAVPERS 15665I dated 25 August 1995, and all other existing directives on navy uniforms.

b. Uniform Change Recommendations. Sailors may make uniform or uniform regulation change recommendations via their chain of command to the Navy Uniform Matters Office. Recommendations are to be submitted in letter format with subject line REQUEST FOR UNIFORM BOARD POLICY CHANGE. Recommendations should reflect navy-wide application with an eye towards standardization and uniform policy reduction. Uniform change proposals are to be endorsed via cover letter by each endorsing echelon. The final endorsement should include proposal Subject Matter Expert contact information. Uniform proposals which are not endorsed favorably at any level will not be accepted by the office. Proposals favorably endorsed shall be submitted to Navy Uniform Matters Office, Deputy Chief of Naval Operations (N13X), 701 S. Courthouse Road, Arlington, VA 22204-2164. Recommendations shall be submitted as follows:

(1). Fleet Units: Uniforms and uniform regulation change proposals shall be evaluated and endorsed at the Unit level, forwarded through the chain of command up to the Force (TYCOM) (N1) and Fleet Level (N1), as appropriate. Fleet Commanders will perform a final screening and endorsement prior to final forwarding to the Navy Uniform Matters Office.

(2). Shore installations: Forward evaluated and endorsed recommendations to Commander, Navy Installations Command (CNIC) via their respective Region Commander. CNIC will forward recommendations to U.S. Fleet Forces (N1) for consideration. U.S. Fleet Forces will forward approved recommendations with endorsement to the Navy Uniform Matters Office.

(3). Training Commands (less U.S. Naval Academy): Forward evaluated and endorsed recommendations to Navy Education and Training Command (NETC).

U.S. Navy Uniform Regulations
Summary of Changes (1 November 2024)

NETC will perform a final screening and endorsement to the Navy Uniform Matters Office.

(4). All others: Uniforms and uniform regulation change proposals shall be evaluated and endorsed at the unit level and forwarded through the administrative chain of command with final endorsement to the Navy Uniform Matters Office.

2. HISTORY. Historically, uniforms have been the product of a Sailor's environment: physical, geographical and technical. Uniforms were provided for protection against the elements or to create distinction among Specialists in a growing navy. Foremost, however, was an element of simplicity providing a uniform that would not interfere with the Sailor's everyday tasks. Women's uniforms, on the other hand, were designed to duplicate civilian fashion trends. Today's navy has narrowed the gap between men's and women's career paths. Women now perform many of the same tasks and have the same specialties as their male counterparts. These changes necessitated a more definitive policy to bring the Uniforms of both men and women more closely in line with each other.

3. ENFORCEMENT. These regulations define the composition of authorized uniforms. Navy uniforms are distinctive visual evidence of the authority and responsibility vested in their wearer by the United States. The prescribing authority determines when and where the uniforms in this manual are appropriate for wear. Uniforms and components shall be worn as described in these regulations. Navy personnel must present a proud and professional military appearance that will reflect positively on the individual, the Navy and the United States. Sailors are authorized to have hands in their pockets when doing so does not compromise safety nor prohibit the proper rendering of honors and courtesies. Additionally, when walking from point to point while in uniform, it is inappropriate and detracts from a professional military appearance for personnel to be smoking or using tobacco products, or to be eating and/or drinking. All personnel shall comply with these regulations and be available to teach others the correct wear of Navy uniforms. Exemplary military appearance should be the norm for uniformed personnel. These regulations describe all authorized U.S. Navy uniforms and the proper manner for their wear.

4. HEADGEAR

a. General. The cap/hat is an integral part of the uniform. Uniform headgear is not required to be worn when ships are at sea outside harbor limits, except on specific watches or on ceremonial occasions specified by the Commanding Officer or higher authority. Uniform headgear is required in port, unless safety prohibits wear, i.e., foreign object damage (FOD).

b. Outdoor Wear. Outdoors, personnel remain covered at all times unless ordered to uncover, or during religious services not associated with a military ceremony. Personnel remain covered during invocations or other religious military ceremonies such as changes of command, ships' commissioning and launchings, and military burials, etc. The chaplain conducting the religious ceremony will guide participants following the customs of his church.

c. Indoor Wear. Indoors, personnel shall remain uncovered at all times unless directed otherwise by higher authority for a special situation/event. Those service members in a duty status and wearing side arms or a pistol belt may only remove headgear indoors when entering dining, medical or FOD hazard areas or where religious services are being conducted.

d. Special Circumstances.

(1) A military cover may be removed when entering, departing, or while riding or driving on and off base in a privately owned vehicle (POV) or bicycle. As a military courtesy, covers should be worn by the driver of a POV when entering a military installation if required to return a salute. When riding a bicycle on or off base, wearing a safety helmet may be required by local safety instruction.

(2) Male and female Sailors undergoing medically prescribed health treatment or care that results in a drastic loss of hair, or the scalp becomes too sensitive to wear wigs/hair pieces, military covers, protective head gear or equipment are authorized to wear fabric head coverings (solid colors of black, khaki/tan, navy blue or white). Medically prescribed head coverings will match the color of the military cover prescribed for wear with the uniform being worn. The need to wear fabric head coverings must be medically documented and prescribed by appropriate military healthcare providers.

5. SHIPBOARD RESTRICTIONS

a. Polyester Uniforms. Do not wear 100% polyester uniforms (certified navy twill) in any operating fire room. Wear only flame retardant clothing when engaged in hot work such as welding or brazing, and when exposed to open flame, such as during boiler light-off operations, or spark producing work such as grinding.

b. Skirts/Dress Shoes. Do not wear skirts or dress shoes (pumps/heels) aboard ship. The wearing of skirts or dress shoes (pumps/heels) are not prescribable or optional aboard ship. These items may be stored aboard ship optionally at the discretion of the service member and worn when immediately departing or returning to the ship.

c. Poromeric Shoes. Do not wear poromeric (e.g. corfam) shoes aboard ship for normal daily operations. Poromeric shoes may be worn when immediately departing or returning to the ship, or when specifically authorized by the Commanding Officer for ceremonial or other special occasions.

d. V-Neck/Sleeveless Undershirts. Do not wear V-neck/sleeveless undershirts aboard ship for normal daily operations. V-neck/sleeveless undershirts may be worn when immediately departing or returning to the ship, or when specifically authorized by the Commanding Officer for ceremonial or other special occasions.

e. Acrylic Cardigan and V-Neck Sweater. Do not wear acrylic V-neck sweater aboard ship as an outer garment during daily operations. Acrylic V-neck sweater may be worn when immediately departing or returning to the ship, or when specifically authorized by the Commanding Officer for ceremonial or other special occasions.

6. CLOTHING REPLACEMENT ALLOWANCES

- a. General. In Executive Order 10113 of 24 February 1950, the President has delegated to the Secretary of Defense the authority to prescribe the quantity and kind of clothing or cash allowances in lieu of clothing, for enlisted personnel.
- b. Amount. Allowances are based on the useful wear life of the various uniforms. DOD Directive 1338.5 outlines the policies and regulations pertaining to allowances. DOD Instruction 1338.18, reissued annually, sets the amount of clothing replacement allowances. The Department of Defense Military Pay and Allowances Entitlements Manual is the authority for paying of clothing allowances.
- c. Annual Clothing Replacement Allowance (CRA)
 - (1) CRA is a cash allowance provided for replacing a minimum quantity of each required Uniform and paid over the estimated useful life of the articles. The uniform components and minimum required number of each are listed on Tables 3-1-1 and 3-1-2. While these are the minimum number required, members may acquire and maintain more than the initial issue at their own expense.
 - (2) CRA is for Replacing Uniforms. Washing, dry cleaning, alterations, and repairs are the member's responsibility. Any unusual wear and tear, damage, or loss of various articles may result in out-of-pocket costs.
- d. Command Replacement of Destroyed Uniform Items. Personnel assigned to duties which prematurely destroy uniform items should be issued coveralls or protective outer garments. Uniform items which are destroyed due to lack of adequate protective garments should be replaced by the command. For additional information refer to NAVSUP Manual P485.

3. Chapter 5, Article 5312, Ribbons

Deleted:

5312. RIBBONS

1. Manner of Wear. Ribbons are worn on the service coat or jumper of Service Dress Blue, Service Dress White, and on the shirts of Service Khaki, Summer White, and the E1-E6 Service Uniform. Ribbons are not authorized on formal dress, dinner dress, or working uniforms. Wear up to three ribbons in a single row. When more than three ribbons are authorized, wear them in horizontal rows of three each. If ribbons are not in multiples of three, the top row contains the lesser number, and the center of this row sits over the center of the one below it (Figure 5-3-12). Wear ribbons without spaces between ribbons or rows of ribbons. Wear ribbons with the lower edge of the bottom row centered 1/4 inch above the left breast pocket and parallel to the deck. To prevent coat lapels from covering ribbons, ribbons may be aligned so the border to wearer's left is aligned with left side of pocket. Rows of ribbons where more than 50% of the ribbon is covered by the coat lapel may contain two ribbons each and be aligned with left border (Figure 5-3-13). On Full Dress uniforms, see article 5313.

2. Placement on Ribbon Bar. Ribbons will be arranged on a bar(s) and attached to uniforms. Ribbons will not be impregnated with preservatives which change their appearance, or have any transparent covering.

3. Arrangement. Arrange ribbons in order of precedence in rows from top down, inboard to outboard. Wear either the three senior ribbons, or all ribbons if you have earned three or more.

4. No Symmetrical Color Designs. Display ribbons which have a symmetrical color design or have stars as part of the design, as follows:

a. American Campaign Service Medal. The dark blue stripe in the center is to the wearer's right.

b. Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal. The blue stripe in the center is to the wearer's right.

c. Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal. The dark blue stripe in the center is to the wearer's right.

d. Combat Action Ribbon. The outermost blue stripe is to the wearer's right, even when worn on the right side when large medals are worn.

e. European-African Middle Eastern Campaign Medal. The blue stripe in the center is to the wearer's right.

f. Korean Presidential Unit Citation Ribbon. The red portion of the circular device in the center is uppermost, and the ribbon has a gold frame.

6. Ribbons with Breast Insignia. When you wear ribbons with breast insignia, comply with Section 2 of this Chapter. (Figure 5-1-1).

5313. RIBBONS WITH MEDALS

1. Manner of Wear. Wear both large medals and ribbons that do not have corresponding large medals on Full Dress Uniforms. Center ribbons on the right breast in the same relative position as the holding bar of the lowest row of medals. Arrange ribbons in order of precedence in rows from top down and inboard to outboard. Wear either the senior ribbon or all ribbons. These ribbons include: Combat Action Ribbon, Presidential Unit Citation, Navy Unit Commendation, Meritorious Unit Commendation, Navy "E", Navy Fleet Marine Force Ribbon, Sea Service Deployment Ribbon, Foreign Unit Awards, Marksmanship, etc. Personnel awarded only ribbons that do not have corresponding large medals will wear the ribbons on the right side as mentioned above.
2. Do not wear ribbons on uniforms requiring miniature medals.

U.S. Navy Uniform Regulations
Summary of Changes (1 November 2024)

5314. LARGE MEDALS

1. Manner of Wear. Large medals are worn on the wearer's left side of the service coat and jumper of Full Dress uniforms. When wearing more than one medal, suspend them from a holding bar that supports the medals' weight. Place the holding bar of the lowest row of medals centered 1/4 inch above the left breast pocket and parallel to the deck. On female coats without pockets, medals will be placed on the wearer's left side with the lower horizontal holding bar placed approximately 6-1/4 inches down as measured from the shoulder seam and centered over the front seam. The bars measure 4-1/8 inches wide, and each row of medals is 3-1/4 inches long from the top of the suspension ribbons to bottom of medals, so that bottom of medals dress in a horizontal line. Multiple rows of medals should be grouped with the same number of medals in each row, with the lesser number in the top row if necessary. A maximum of three medals may be worn side by side in a single row with no overlap. Arrange four or more medals (maximum of five in a single row) following the layout in Table 5-3-1. Overlapping will be proportional and the inboard medal will show in full. Mount the medals so they cover the suspension ribbons of the medals below.

2. Arrangement. Arrange medals in order of precedence in rows from top down, inboard to outboard, within rows. Service members possessing more than five medals may either wear the five senior medals or all of them.

3. Medal of Honor with Large Medals. When wearing either large or miniature medals, wear the Medal of Honor pendant on a suspension ribbon placed around the neck. When wearing this medal with the male and female service dress white coat, place the ribbon outside the coat collar. Place the ribbon between the shirt and coat collar with all other coats.

4. Polishing Medals. The wear of anodized, plated, or highly polished medals is prohibited except for personnel permanently assigned to the U.S. Navy Ceremonial Guard in Washington, D.C.

5. Medals with Breast Insignia. When wearing large medals with breast insignia, comply with Section 2 of this Chapter figures 5-3-1, 2, 3-a, 3-b and 4.

5315. MINIATURE MEDALS

1. Manner of Wear. Wear miniature medals with all formal dress uniforms and dinner dress uniforms. Each row of miniatures is 2-1/4 inches long, from top of the suspension ribbons to bottom of medals, so the bottom of medals dress in a horizontal line. Position medals so they cover the suspension ribbons of the medals in the rows below.

a. Males. On formal and dinner dress jackets, place the holding bar of the lowest row of miniature medals 3 inches below the notch, centered on the lapel, parallel to the deck, figure 5-3-5. On blue and white service coats, center the lower horizontal holding bar 1/4 inch above the left breast pocket parallel to the deck, figures 5-3-6 and 5-3-7.

b. Females. On formal dress or dinner dress jackets, place the holding bar of the lowest row of miniature medals in the same relative position as on the men's dinner dress jackets, down $\frac{1}{3}$ the distance between the shoulder seam and coat hem, figure 5-3-8. On the female Service Dress Blue coat, center the holding bar of the lowest row of miniature medals $\frac{1}{4}$ inch above the left pocket flap parallel to the deck, figure 5-3-9-a. On the female Service Dress White (Choker) Coat, miniature medals will be placed on the wearer's left side with the holding bar of the lowest row of miniature medals placed approximately 6- $\frac{1}{4}$ inches down from the bottom intersection of the front seam and shoulder seam and centered over the front seam, figure 5-3-9-b.

2. Arrangement. Wear up to five miniature medals in a row with no overlap. Arrange six or more miniature medals following the layout in Table 5-3-1. Arrange medals in order of precedence in rows from top down, inboard to outboard, within rows. Service members possessing five or more medals may either wear the five senior medals or all of them. On the dinner dress jacket, center up to three miniature medals on the lapel. Position four or more miniatures starting at the inner edge of the lapel extending beyond the lapel on to the body of the jacket.

3. Medal of Honor with Miniature Medals. When wearing miniature medals, wear the Medal of Honor as described in article 5314.3.

4. Polishing Medals. The wear of anodized, plated, or highly polished medals is prohibited except for personnel permanently assigned to the U.S. Navy Ceremonial Guard in Washington, D.C.

5. Miniature Medals with Breast Insignia. When wearing miniature medals with breast insignia, comply with Chapter 5, Section 2.

5316. ATTACHMENTS TO BE WORN ON RIBBONS AND MEDALS

1. General. Wear stars, oak leaf clusters, clasps, letters and other miscellaneous devices on the suspension ribbon of large and miniature medals, and on the ribbon bars as follows.

2. Manner of Wear

a. Center a single device on the ribbon: stars with two rays pointing down; oak leaf clusters as horizontally as possible with stems of the leaves pointing to the wearer's right.

b. Place multiples of the same attachment in a horizontal line close to and symmetrically about the center of the ribbon. Multiple oak leaf clusters may be tilted slightly downward to the wearer's right for placing the maximum allowed number of clusters and other devices on the ribbon. If oak leaf clusters on one ribbon are tilted, clusters on all ribbons will be tilted for standardization.

c. When wearing stars or oak leaf clusters with other devices, such as the bronze letter "V", arrange them symmetrically on the ribbon in relation to the centered device; the first star (cluster) to the wearer's right; the second to his left, etc. Figure 5-3-11.

e. When medals overlap, wear all attachments to the wearer's left centered on the visible portion of suspension ribbons. If all attachments are not visible after moving to the left, they may be worn vertically.

f. There are two types of "attachments" for ribbons - "individual" attachments or "single-constructed" (two or more devices manufactured together). When individual attachment(s) is affixed to the ribbon, the attachment(s) will be equally spaced on the ribbon. If a single-constructed attachment is used, it will be centered on the ribbon. If a single-constructed attachment is used on one ribbon, it will be used on all ribbons worn. (Exception: Single-constructed attachments may be mixed with "individual" attachments if combination of devices authorized to be worn on a ribbon are not available as a "single-constructed" device. For example, a silver and bronze device cannot be purchased as single-constructed attachment.)

On female coats without pockets, medals will be placed on the wearer's left side with the lower horizontal holding bar placed approximately 6-1/4 inches down as measured from the shoulder seam and centered over the front seam. The bars measure 4-1/8 inches wide, and each row of medals is 3-1/4 inches long from the top of the suspension ribbons to bottom of medals, so that bottom of medals dress in a horizontal line. Multiple rows of medals should be grouped with the same number of medals in each row, with the lesser number in the top row if necessary. A maximum of three medals may be worn side by side in a single row with no overlap. Arrange four or more medals (maximum of five in a single row) following the layout in Table 5-3-1. Overlapping will be proportional and the inboard medal will show in full. Mount the medals so they cover the suspension ribbons of the medals below.

2. Arrangement. Arrange medals in order of precedence in rows from top down, inboard to outboard, within rows. Service members possessing more than five medals may either wear the five senior medals or all of them.

3. Medal of Honor with Large Medals. When wearing either large or miniature medals, wear the Medal of Honor pendant on a suspension ribbon placed around the neck. When wearing this medal with the male and female service dress white coat, place the ribbon outside the coat collar. Place the ribbon between the shirt and coat collar with all other coats.

4. Polishing Medals. The wear of anodized, plated, or highly polished medals is prohibited except for personnel permanently assigned to the U.S. Navy Ceremonial Guard in Washington, D.C.

5. Medals with Breast Insignia. When wearing large medals with breast insignia, comply with Section 2 of this Chapter figures 5-3-1, 2, 3-a, 3-b and 4.

to the deck, figure 5-3-5. On blue and white service coats, center the lower horizontal holding bar 1/4 inch above the left breast pocket parallel to the deck, figures 5-3-6 and 5-3-7.

On the female Service Dress Blue coat, center the holding bar of the lowest row of miniature medals $\frac{1}{4}$ inch above the left pocket flap parallel to the deck, figure 5-3-9-a. On the female Service Dress White (Choker) Coat, miniature medals will be placed on the wearer's left side with the holding bar of the lowest row of miniature medals placed approximately 6- $\frac{1}{4}$ inches down from the bottom intersection of the front seam and shoulder seam and centered over the front seam, figure 5-3-9-b.

2. Arrangement. Wear up to five miniature medals in a row with no overlap. Arrange six or more miniature medals following the layout in Table 5-3-1. Arrange medals in order of precedence in rows from top down, inboard to outboard, within rows. Service members possessing five or more medals may either wear the five senior medals or all of them. On the dinner dress jacket, center up to three miniature medals on the lapel. Position four or more miniatures starting at the inner edge of the lapel extending beyond the lapel on to the body of the jacket.

3. Medal of Honor with Miniature Medals. When wearing miniature medals, wear the Medal of Honor as described in article 5314.3.

4. Polishing Medals. The wear of anodized, plated, or highly polished medals is prohibited except for personnel permanently assigned to the U.S. Navy Ceremonial Guard in Washington, D.C.

5. Miniature Medals with Breast Insignia. When wearing miniature medals with breast insignia, comply with Chapter 5, Section 2.

5316. ATTACHMENTS TO BE WORN ON RIBBONS AND MEDALS

1. General. Wear stars, oak leaf clusters, clasps, letters and other miscellaneous devices on the suspension ribbon of large and miniature medals, and on the ribbon bars as follows.

2. Manner of Wear

a. Center a single device on the ribbon: stars with two rays pointing down; oak leaf clusters as horizontally as possible with stems of the leaves pointing to the wearer's right.

b. Place multiples of the same attachment in a horizontal line close to and symmetrically about the center of the ribbon. Multiple oak leaf clusters may be tilted slightly downward to the wearer's right for placing the maximum allowed number of clusters and other devices on the ribbon. If oak leaf clusters on one ribbon are tilted, clusters on all ribbons will be tilted for standardization.

c. When wearing stars or oak leaf clusters with other devices, such as the bronze letter "V", arrange them symmetrically on the ribbon in relation to the centered device; the first star (cluster) to the wearer's right; the second to his left, etc. Figure 5-3-11.

e. When medals overlap, wear all attachments to the wearer's left centered on the visible portion of suspension ribbons. If all attachments are not visible after moving to the left, they may be worn vertically.

f. There are two types of "attachments" for ribbons - "individual" attachments or "single-constructed" (two or more devices manufactured together). When individual attachment(s) is affixed to the ribbon, the attachment(s) will be equally spaced on the ribbon. If a single-constructed attachment is used, it will be centered on the ribbon. If a single-constructed attachment is used on one ribbon, it will be used on all ribbons worn. (Exception: Single-constructed attachments may be mixed with "individual" attachments if combination of devices authorized to be worn on a ribbon are not available as a "single-constructed" device. For example, a silver and bronze device cannot be purchased as single-constructed attachment.)
